

A BUSINESS WOMAN
or a woman who works, sooner or later has to build up her strength with Dr. Chamberlain's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, fainting spells, or sleeplessness, take the "Prescription." It is a woman's special tonic and nerve.

It's a medicine that builds up, invigorates, regulates, and cures. It lessens the pains and burdens of child-bearing.

If it doesn't benefit or cure, in "female complaints" and weakness, you have your money back.

Dr. H. V. Pierce: Dear Sir—I have taken the "Prescription" and I can recommend it to any body that suffers with any female ailment. I have tried several doctors' prescriptions but none did me the good that yours did.

Yours respectfully,
Minnie Perry
Post Office, Sherwin Hill, Dallas Co., Tex.

LAND OF CONFUCIUS.

Miss Fanny Meyer Writes About the Land of the Almond-Eyed.

CHAPTER XIV.
CHUNG KING, China, July 22, 1895.

I think Helen and I are getting along fairly well with the language. We are keeping right together and are a help to each other. We have gone through the lessons in Baller's Primer and are now reviewing and shall have to review several times before we are ready for examination. Chinese construction is very difficult and there are so many characters and it takes a long time to get them fixed. It would not be possible to get all the Chinese characters in a lifetime. So many are so nearly alike, and yet not alike, we often realize that Chinese characters are not always what they seem. Some characters, although different in construction and meaning, are pronounced just the same, and in the spoken language we must learn to tell the meaning the way they are used. I think it is the tones that make the language so difficult, but there are not so many tones in this place as in some places. The words for soap, (an article that seems to be used very sparingly by the Chinese) and chair, the same only chair has a stronger tone than soap. They and sell are the same only different tones, as are also coal and sugar, woman and donkey, convenient and medicine, salt and smoke, four and ten and many others. One day Miss Collier was making some preserves and told the 'cook' to put in more coal; she used the wrong tone which meant sugar and he brought some sugar and was going to put it in the preserves, so you see it is not only 'p' and 'q' we have to mind here, but their overlying tones. It takes three characters to form the word 'dew', 'mai', 'chi', each character has a different tone; this makes the tone in the first lesson, that is the first time the character appears and we have to remember (or try to most awfully hard) the tone as the marking is not given in the reading lessons, so we must learn to recognize each character, its tone and its English meaning. Unless we know the tone for the character, we cannot say we know the character.

We are so thankful that the language we learn here is not one of the many dialects, as is in Southern China and other parts, but the Mandarin (the official language). Miss Collier says she thinks the language here is much prettier than either of the other two places she has been in.

The rainy season seems to have set in. While it makes it rather gloomy it is much more endurable than the extremely hot weather.

It is quite a disappointment to the other missionaries, as well as to ourselves, that we cannot spend the hottest months in the mountains. But on account of the riots in this province (Szechuen) and the trouble they had in getting the land in the mountains on which to put up some summer houses, they had to give it up. They thought they had it all settled about the land, and Mr. Myers remained to see about getting the houses started, but when he heard of the riots in Chentu he came down and left a native Christian in charge. Mr. M. was not gone long when they took this man and put him in prison and beat him. I don't know how many stripes, Mr. C. went up as soon as we heard about it, and tried to get him released, but they did not succeed, but think he saved him. They then sent a native Christian from here and he succeeded in getting him released. The man in prison prayed that if it was the Lord's will he would in some way make a way for him to escape, and it was either that day or the next day that the man arrived and he was released. It is blessed to see these native Christians remain firm during such times of persecution. It means much for many of these people to come out from among their heathen relatives and friends and confess their faith in Christ. O they do need our prayers, our sympathy and our love.

While there is much that is discouraging in working among a people who have been so long in heathen darkness, I am so thankful for that that is encouraging.

O, that God will help me to love Chinese people that I may thus speak for Him even before I have the language.

After they are converted they will often do things which to us seem great sins, while to them they are but little things. Even men and women are but as little children in most things. Realizing this it is so much easier to have patience with them. I understand as never before how that the Israelites were a child nation and I love to think of the wonderful love and patience, God had in dealing with them, and it is just the same as He has in dealing with us, isn't it?

With God's help we learn to look away from the fifth and all that is disagreeable and to see the soul within for whom Christ has died.

I can't tell you what a sad time it was when we were packing and getting ready to leave and not knowing when we should be able to return. It did seem so hard to leave these people who seemed to need us so much, and isn't it to think that the great majority look upon us as their enemies and cannot understand that we are only here to do them good.

We are still out in the glorious country and praise the Lord for it every day. We may stay during July and August. It will cost us a little more but our health is of two much importance to think of the extra cost. The air is much purer here, as are also the sanitary conditions. If we can get through the first year in China fairly well, it will mean much to us. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis are here at present taking a much needed rest. Their children Nellie and Raymond (how I wish I could rattle off the Chinese as they do) are also here and we are enjoying having them. We appreciate the "Friends" kindness very much in letting us have the use of their house. I am sure I spoke of the beautiful surrounding scenery of which I never tire, in my last letter.

The mosquitoes are buzzing and biting when I give them a chance, so I must hurry to the business part or else get in bed under my netting to finish. I could not use the mosquito bar I brought, as it is two course. Miss C. got some regular mosquito netting at Nankin for us.

Of the $50,000 Gift Distribution to Subscribers of the Twice-a-Week Republic.

The extraordinary distribution of $50,000 in gifts to subscribers of the "Twice-a-Week" Republic of St. Louis which was begun by that paper last July, will end on September 30. The "Twice-a-Week" Republic has the largest circulation of any newspaper or periodical in the Western United States, because of its general excellence and its interest in the number of its readers. It gave away nearly $100,000 in presents during July to subscribers who answered correctly the question: "Where does the word 'salve' first occur in the Bible?" and during August it gave away nearly $7,000 in gifts to those who were the first to tell: "where the word 'gift' first occurred in the Bible."

The remainder of the $50,000 in gifts will be distributed during September to subscribers who will tell where the word "paper" first occurs in the Bible. One thousand extra prizes of special value are to be awarded to the first 700 to send in a correct answer to this question and enclose $1 to pay for a yearly subscription. Every subscriber who sends a subscription to the "Twice-a-Week" Republic during September and does not secure one of the 1,000 special gifts, will receive a present valued at $1.00.

Children, especially infants are soon run down with Cholera Infantum or "Summer Complaint." Don't wait to determine, but give De Witt's Colic and Cholera Care promptly, you can rely on it. Use no other. Sold by T. S. Hinde, Oregon, Mo.

The Arena for September.

The September Arena opens with a vivid description of the bloody battle now being waged in the legislature over the agitation for raising the age of consent. The facts are marshalled in order by Helen H. Gardner, the well-known and popular novelist, and deal this month with the arguments, pro and con on the recent legislation in Nebraska, Colorado and Missouri, where the age has been materially raised. Prof. Joseph Rodas Buchanan, whose portrait forms the frontispiece of the number, contributes a striking and valuable article on "The Marvels of Electricity."

The Horticulturist.

J. R. Milne read a very excellent paper on potatoes which will be found elsewhere. This paper was discussed at considerable length by Col. Irvine and N. F. Murray. Mr. Murray stated that T. S. Terry, of Ohio, was one of the best potato men in this country that he was a merchant and failed in business and health, and bought 50 acres of land, but was compelled to sell it at a loss of $25,000. He planted a regular rotation of crops and his land has become very fertile and now he has money in bank. If many "would buy land here, and would get 200 bushels of potatoes to the acre they could soon be in good circumstances."
